Biography

Cesar Zumbado, known as Hanstler, is a Costa Rican electronic engineer whose greatest passion is composing and creating electronic music. Techno has driven his career and, in his own words, it is the best way to explain what goes through his mind and how he analyzes every situation from his autistic spectrum. With more than 14 years in the scene, he is considered one of the most prominent DJ / producers in his country. In this new chapter he hopes his music and his essence reach the furthest corner of the underground world.
